Rajiv Gandhi National Institute of Youth Development

As Youth Development constitutes a core component of national development in the context of building human resources in a vast country like ours, it was felt that there must be a national organisation to identify all the relevant aspects of youth motivation and to develop and design programmes for promoting youth welfare. Therefore, Rajiv Gandhi National Institute of Youth Development (RGNIYD) was set up as an autonomous body by the Department of Youth Affairs and Sports, Ministry of Human Resource Development, Government of India and registered under Societies Registration Act, XXVII of 1975 S.No.67 of 1993. It has emerged as the professional resource agency, and acts as a think-tank of the Ministry of Youth Affairs and Sports, and assists the Government and Non-government agencies in youth related activities. As the apex Institute at the national level, it works in close cooperation with the NSS, NYK and other youth organisations in the implementation of training programmes. The Institute is a nodal agency for training youth and a facilitator of youth development activities in rural as well as in urban areas.

The Institute is provided with the essential facilities and infrastructure so that it would serve as a Centre of Advanced Study and Applied Research for ensuring availability of professional expertise in youth work and to create a competent cadre of youth workers. As a regular feature of its functional activities, the Institute has launched a number of research projects and extension programmes to unearth the potential in the young people which perhaps remain untapped. It provides a forum for youth to debate and discuss issues that concern them as well as those that impinge on their development.

This Institute has the following five Divisions and Cells each under a Faculty Head, besides the Administrative Division.

- Training, Orientation and Extension Division (TOE)
- Research, Evaluation and Documentation / Dissemination Division (READ)
- Panchayati Raj and Youth Affairs Division (PRIYA)
- International Centre for Excellence in Youth Development Division (ICEYD)

- Social Harmony and National Unity Division (SHANU)
- Adolescent Health and Development Cell
- Gender Studies Cell

MANDATE

- e. To develop its programmes aimed at inculcating a sense of national pride, awareness of national goals and internalisation of national values among the youth workers.
- f. To develop new ideas and innovative programmes for motivating and creating a committed cadre of youth workers and functionaries.
- g. To promote and conduct action and user based applied research and evaluation studies in youth development and through this provide necessary thrust to youth programmes on systematic and scientific lines.
- h. To function as Center for Information Publication and Documentation pertaining to youth development.
- i. To provide Institutional training for the personnel working in the field of youth.
- j. To provide appropriate youth extension projects and services which can function as laboratory on youth work.
- k. To link its programmes and functions to the promotion of National Youth Policy.

1. Overview

During the period under report there has been a manifold increase in the activities of the Institute. For the first time, the five Divisions started functioning in full strength with recruitment of Faculty Heads and Training Officers. This initiative was translated into full-fledged activities whereby the number of programmes organised were three to four times higher. The range of clientele covered by the programmes also extended beyond the NSS, NYKS and State Government functionaries to include Non-Governmental Organisations. In terms of geographical coverage too, the reach of the Institute was extended to cover the length and breadth of the country. Off-campus programmes in various parts of the country were organised with local support to ensure that the benefits of RGNIYD programmes are not limited to its location at Sriperumbudur.

In fulfillment of its mandate to function as an Institute of advanced study in the field of youth and develop such professional excellence as may be required for the purpose, the institute is launching academic programmes at Post Graduate level through two modes viz. Regular Programme and Distance Education Programme in collaboration with Indira Gandhi National Open University, New Delhi with which a memorandum of understanding was signed. The academic programmes are M.A. in 1) Youth Empowerment, 2) Career Counseling, 3) Gender Studies, 4) Local Governance and 5) Life Skills Education. A Workshop on Development of Curriculum for the above courses was organized in which over 70 academicians, experts, professors from the specialized areas participated and the curriculum for the courses were prepared. A two day Workshop was held for Course Writers to equip them for developing course material in a scientific manner. An academic Council will be comprising of eminent experts and academicians. The regular programmes will be launched from July 2008 and the Distance Education Programme will be initiated by December 2008.

One of the agendas of the Institute is construction of Youth Development Index to enable assessment of the status of the youth in the country, facilitate comparison between the states and union territories and also identify the gaps which needs policy intervention. This project was undertaken in association with Tata Institute of Social Sciences in view of the complexity of issues involved in the course of constructing a Youth Development Index. Therefore, during the year, a Memorandum of Understanding was signed between RGNIYD and Tata Institute of Social Sciences, Mumbai to initiate the one year Collaborative Project on Construction of a Youth Development Index India. This project commenced in February 2008.

An important mandate of the Institute is formulation of Core Training Materials, Training Manuals and Special Modules to impart specific inputs in different areas which are replicable in any part of the country. The Institute does this through consultations with experts in the specific area to prepare the modules which is then refined and revised after pilot testing the module among the stakeholders.

During the year the Institute has prepared and brought out several modules / manuals viz Social Harmony and National Unity, Career Guidance for Teachers, Life-Skills for Adolescents, Gender Equity and Youth, Model Youth Clubs, Leadership and Personality Development, Tribal Youth as Social Animators, Training Youth in Citizenship Rights and Social Harmony, Youth in Border Districts and NSS Training Manual

With the objective of providing an opportunity to the youth of the North East to see and interact with the youth of rest of India, a two - way flow of youth exchange programmes i.e. an exposure visit to the youth from the north-east to the other parts of India and the youth from the rest of India to the north-east is arranged by the Institute through a ten day intensive programme. These Programmes for the Youth of the North-east was taken up on a regular basis every month. The North-east youth get a taste of the cultures and lifestyles of youth in different parts of the country under this programme and vice versa for the youth from the other parts of India. Over 755 Youth from the eight states of North eastern region participated in ten such programmes visiting States/UTs viz. Rajasthan, Kerala, Andaman and Nicobar, Karnataka, Tamil Nadu, Andhra Pradesh, Goa and Maharashtra.

The Youth in Panchayati Raj Campaign facilitating sharing of experiences by the Young Panchayati Raj members was continued during the year. A report on the appraisal of the Youth in Panchayati Raj Campaign - Inter-State Interactive Experience-Sharing Programme was circulated to the Members of Consultative Committee, Parliamentary Youth Forum, North-east MP's Forum, Lok Sabha, Raj Sabha etc. The training-cum-exposure visit for Panchayati Raj

Members from Lakshadweep was also organized. An exposure visit on Social Audit in Wayanad and Palakkad District of Kerala was arranged for 50 Young Panchayati Raj Presidents from Tamil Nadu for seven days during which they were familiarized with Social Audit, Village Planning and Social Mapping.

At the International level the Institute continued to organize international training programmes in collaboration with Commonwealth Youth Programme, Chandigarh by organizing Asia Regional Consultation on 'Youth Policies and Programmes' in January 2007 and Asia Regional Consultation on 'Youth at Risk' in August 2007 for which youth delegates and officials from Bangladesh, Brunei Darussalam, India, Malaysia, Maldives, Pakistan, Singapore, and Sri Lanka participated.

The visit a 10-Member Korean Delegation in August 2007 to Chennai and a 100-Member Chinese Delegation to Hyderabad during November 2007 were coordinated by the Institute by organizing Industrial and Institutional visits, village exposure visits and cultural programmes. A 253-Member 20th World Ship Programme Delegation during February 2008 visit to Chennai was also coordinated by the Institute by organizing visits to Institutions such M.S.Swaminathan Research Foundation Chennai, Dakshin Chitra A South India Cultural Centre, a courtesy call on the Governor of Tamil Nadu and Cultural Programmes.

A major activity was the organization of the 2nd SAARC Youth Camp-2008 in January 2008 held on the sidelines of the National Youth Festival in collaboration with the Ministry of Youth Affairs and Sports, Government of India. Sixty (60) delegates from the SAARC Countries participated in the Camp which had a mix of academic sessions and also participation in the cultural activities of the Youth Festival. The outcome of the SAARC Youth Camp was the adoption of a declaration on common concerns of youth in the SAARC Region and strategies to tackle the issues.

The Institute not only emphasises on programmes and activities for youth but also adolescents who constitute 22 per cent of the total population. RGNIYD initiated an Adolescent Health and Development Project supported by United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA) at its campus. This project started functioning by undertaking capacity building activities, institutional strengthening, community intervention programmes, creating adolescent website, careers website, organizing career guidance exhibition, life-skill training. Career Melas were held in all the blocks of Vellore and Kancheepuram Districts in which over 79041 students from High and Higher Secondary Government and Government Aided schools participated and got exposed to vast horizon of careers available. Orientation training programmes for the District Project Officers (DPOs), Adolescent Peer Volunteers (APV's) were held in 63 Districts all over the country. The 2nd phase of Adolescent quiz programme for the Nodal Officers of NSS supported by UNFPA was also rolled out during the year in 350 Districts of 19 States and UTs. The Institute organised a workshop on Networking of NGOs for Adolescent Health and Development. Other major highlights of the centre's activities includes installation of Ilanthalir, RGNIYD's Community Radio Station for the adolescents, with a radius of 20 km covering 300 schools, in and around Sriprumbudur. It caters to the educational and recreational needs of rural adolescents in the locality thereby promoting community learning. The programmes broadcasted from this station are being written, directed and produced by adolescents only. The teens clubs formed by RGNIYD in Sriperumbudur block has taken up the ownership of the Community Radio Station and started producing programmes.

Sensitizing the youth of the country on certain issues which are not part of the general curriculum in Schools, Colleges and Universities was another aspect of the Institute's direct intervention programme for the overall development the personality of the Youth of our country. Aptly titled 'Unfinished Agenda of the Youth', the programme aimed at providing inputs on Local Governance, Environment, Social and National Unity, Gender issues and Life-skills for the youth.

For the first time the Institute celebrated its Foundation Day on 1st September 2007 in which Her Excellency the President of India Smt. Pratibha Devi Singh Patil delivered the inaugural Foundation Day Lecture. His Excellency the Governor of Tamil Nadu

Shri Surjit Singh Barnala, the Chairman RGNIYD Hon'ble Union Minister for Youth Affairs and Sports Shri Mani Shankar Aiyar and Dr. (Smt.) Poongothai, the Hon'ble Minister for Social Welfare, Govt. of Tamil Nadu, Secretary to Government of India, Ministry of Youth Affairs & Sports were among the other dignitaries present on the occasion. The occasion was also made memorable by the presence of cross-section of the youth from all states of India comprising young Panchyati Raj representatives, NCC Cadets, NSS Volunteers, NSVs of NYKS, Bharat Scouts & Guides and the august presence of the Hon'ble State Ministers of Youth and Sports. The occasion was used to launch the RGNIYD Youth Portal and Adolescent Website that was created by the Institute. The 500 seat state-of-the-art auditorium was also inaugurated by Her Excellency the President of India.

The Research and Evaluation Studies constitute an important segment in the Institute's Agenda. During the year five studies were initiated and completed: The Institute's project 'Youth In the New Millennium Challenges and Opportunities' reflecting the educational, employment, health, gender, equality and status of youth prevailing in the country was completed and the Report was submitted which will be published shortly.

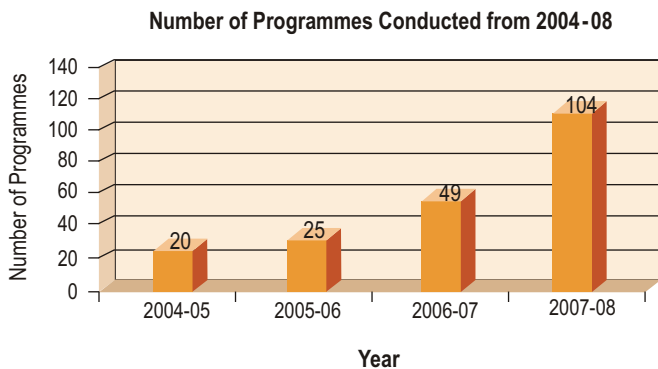

In keeping with the National Youth Policy that RGNIYD will serve as the apex Information and Research Centre on Youth Development Issues the Institute has developed exclusive websites for the Youth and the Adolescents which function as store houses of information. The websites are www.youthportal.gov.in, www.rgnyd-ahdp.gov.in and www.rgnyd-career.gov.in.

The details of all the programmes and activities of the Institute are given in the Chapters that follow.

2. Training and other Activities

RGNIYD recognizes the programme implementers as the cutting edge in the process of youth transformation. Hence, all its efforts are directed towards enhancing the skills of the youth development functionaries by providing training and capacity building programmes on various issues of youth development. The Institute provides core training material and expertise in youth development. Training manuals and special modules to impart specific techniques are brought out by the Institute.

Asia Regional Consultation on 'Youth at Risk'

21 – 25 August 2007

Young people around the world generate two powerful emotions in the adult minds that of fear and hope. The fear that they would disown and destroy all our civilization values and the hope that they could revive, enrich, recreate and carry forward all the positive aspects of our collective heritage. These hopes and fears are reinforced by the current rising youth demography ie., 1-4 billion world wide aged 12-24 years. One third of them live in Commonwealth countries and more than half of them in the Asia Commonwealth region. Over 200 million young people are living in poverty, 130 million youth are illiterate, 88 million unemployed and 10 million are living with HIV/AIDS.

Young people today are also living in difficult times and struggling to cope with complex socio-cultural scenarios in a fast changing world. Urbanisation, globalization and emergence of a 'global media driven youth culture' have further aggravated the situation. They confront serious and critical risks than any of their previous generations. Young people often want autonomy from parents, seek friendships with peers and love to play with new ideas, products and lifestyles.

World Society has to recognize that social issues such as Militancy, Trafficking, Youth in conflict with law and Suicide and the strategies used to deal with them will play a large role in international relations in the twenty-first century. It is in recognition of this fact, RGNIYD and CYP Asia Regional Centre organized a Regional Consultation on Youth at Risk with particular reference to Trafficking, Suicide, Militancy and Youth in conflict with law at Hotel Ramada Raj Park, Chennai. Participated from various countries of Asian Commonwealth Region participated.

The consultation facilitated critical review of and experience sharing on the issues with special focus on trafficking, suicide, militancy and youth in conflict with law, explore the cause and consequences of youth at risk and to equip the participants with the latest research and development on these issues including the intervention strategies, approaches, skills and best practices and to evolve an outline for development of a composite module on these issues for Asian Region.

The SAARC Youth Delegates set out for a Model Indian Village Visit at Kuthambakkam, a village located on the outskirts of Chennai witnessed the transformation made by the villagers through their joint efforts in building houses, maintaining water bodies and safe drinking water, creation of sanitary facilities, effective disposal of solid waste and recycling of used water, the educational, health and governance infrastructural facilities, eradication of untouchability practices and establishing communal harmony. They also saw the income generating projects being run by the villagers providing a large scale employment for the youth of the village thereby reducing migration and increasing the youth participation in village level activities through such empowerment endeavours.

The Youth Delegates at RGNIYD shared their experiences and knowledge gained through the 2nd SAARC Youth Camp-2008. The Youth Delegates then adopted the Declaration of the 2nd SAARC Youth Camp.

20th Ship for World Youth Programme

19-21 February 2008

The purpose of the "Ship for World Youth" program is to broaden the global view of the Japanese youths, to promote mutual understanding and friendship between Japanese and foreign youths as well as to cultivate the spirit of international cooperation and the competence to practice it and furthermore to foster the youths with capability of showing leadership in various area of international society.

In this program, youths from Japan, Bahrain, Brazil, Costa Rica, Finland, India, New Zealand, Oman, Solomon Islands, South Africa, Spain, Tanzania, U.S.A., Vanuatu and India live together onboard the "Ship for World Youth", for 42 days and engage in various multilateral exchange activities such as studying and discussing common issues from a global viewpoint onboard and in the countries visited.

During the voyage, Chennai being one of the three Ports of call, the Ship for "World Youth Program" arrived at Chennai Port on 19th February 2008. RGNIYD was designated by the Ministry of Youth Affairs and Sports, Government of India as the official host to the participating youth of this "Ship for World Youth Program".

Two years ago when the 18th Ship for World Youth Program had Chennai as the Port of Call the Institute had devised a programme which included an exposure Indian way of Life in the Villages which was a great success.

As a consequence the 20th Ship for World Youth Programme which halted at Chennai is being again hosted by RGNIYD. The International Youth delegates participated in focused group discussions on six identified themes viz Youth at Risk, Global Warming, Globalisation, Human Rights, Gender and Health which were handled by eminent experts in these subjects at RGNIYD and had interactions with 120 NSS Volunteers from Chennai colleges. As a part of providing an exposure to Indian Culture and heritage, the ship delegates witnessed a mix of Indian Classical and Folk Dance Programmes.

Village visits to expose the international youth to Indian way of life and local governance (Panchayati Raj system) were arranged and the youth delegates were taken to six villages in and around Sriperumbudur viz Thandalam, Kuthambakkam, Katrampakkam, Navalur, Irungattukottai and Bootheripundi where each villagers extended a traditional welcome to the delegates besides arranging cultural programmes. They were acquainted with various rural developmental initiatives undertaken by the Government and the role of panchayats and the village youth in improving their village infrastructure. They were also enlightened on the concepts of local governance (Panchayati Raj System), which is a hallmark of Indian village administration. The delegates were very happy to visit the villages and saw for themselves the Indian way of life.

The youth delegates visited various institutions in Chennai viz., L.V. Prasad Studio, Vishranthi, Asian College of Journalism, Bala Mandir, Centre for Social Initiative and Management and M.S. Swaminathan Research Foundation where they had discussions on volunteerism, education, environment, information and mediacultural understanding, community and youth.

To enrich the youth delegates on the rich Indian Diverse cultures and traditions, they were taken to Dakshin Chitra, a Centre for the living traditions of art, folk performing arts, crafts and architecture of India with an emphasis on the traditions of South India and to Mahabalipuram to depict the carvings and rock-cut art portraying the scenes of day-to-day life and the carvings of gods and goddesses. They also visited the Rajiv Gandhi Memorial and paid their tributes to the martyred leader. The 14 national leaders representing each of the nations on board, called on His Excellency, the Governor of Tamil Nadu, Shri. Surjit Singh Barnala.

She expressed concern that despite six decades of Independence there are still too many children and adolescents who do not go to school or drop outs. Institutes like Rajiv Gandhi National Institute of Youth Development have an important role in contributing to skill development and training for employability of such youth, which is integral to nation's effort to translate accelerated growth into 'inclusive growth'. Noting that 40 to 70% of the Panchayati Raj representative are young people below the age of 35 she commended the Institute's effort to mobilize youth power in the Panchayati Raj system. She said the Youth of our country are in search of a bright future and seek to build a new India. It is, therefore, incumbent upon us to provide them the necessary opportunities and facilities as also address the problem facing the nation. His Excellency the Governor of Tamil Nadu Shri. Surjit Singh Barnala delivering the Felicitation Address said that the youth are the most dynamic and vibrant segment of our country and our most valuable resource. He stressed on the need to optimally tap their constructive and creative energies and involve them in nation building activities. The Chairman, RGNIYD, Hon'ble Union Minister for Youth Affairs and Sports Shri. Mani Shankar Aiyar welcomed the dignitaries and the invitees and gave a detailed report of the Institute's manifold activities fulfilling its mandate as the think-tank of the Ministry of Youth Affairs & Sports on Youth Development Programmes and Policies. He also announced the Institution of Rajiv Gandhi Youth Fellowships to be awarded from next year, which will be given to individuals for carrying out projects or studies in the contemporary context of youth.

The President of India inaugurated the new state-of-the-art 500-seat capacity auditorium in the RGNIYD campus. # 3. Research and Extension Projects

The Research and Evaluation Studies constitute an important segment in the Institute's Agenda. During the year the following studies were initiated and completed:

- Nation-Wide Evaluation Study on the functioning of Rural Information Technology Youth Development Centres (RITYDC). 76 RITYDCs out of total of 213 RITYDCs were selected on a random basis and a total of 45 respondents in every RITYDC were interviewed covering 22 States and UTs.
- Study on the knowledge, Attitude and Practice (KAP) towards HIV / AIDS and Prevalence of STI among Youth was conducted using stratified random sample system in all the Districts of Tamil Nadu. Total respondent of this study was 15000 i.e. 500 youth from 30 Districts. The current practices, attitudes, believes of youth related to sexuality, STD, HIV/AIDS were scientifically documented which will give a direction to Policy makers and implementers to design youth specific prevention and care programme pertaining to STD/HIV/AIDS
- Impact of HIV / AIDS Information, Education and Communication Campaigns on Young People in North-East India was carried out in Assam and Manipur covering 1800 respondents.
- An action research on Mental Health of Adolescent in select schools in collaboration with Schizophrenia Research Foundation (SCARF) India. Boys and Girls from 9th & 11th Standard constituted the target group the intervention include management of stress and anger workshops, effective learning, memory tips and how to write exam well and social responsibility inputs.
- A National level Study to Understand the Knowledge, Attitude and Practice of Youth on Panchayati Raj System in India was undertaken with a preparatory workshop to discuss the conceptual framework and the methodology of the study to be undertaken in several states was organised.

Summary of completed Research Studies

1) Rural Information Technology Youth Development Centre (RITYDC) – An Evaluation Study

As per the observation and suggestion of the Planning Commission's Steering Committee on Youth Affairs and Sports for formulation of the 11th Five- Year Plan to evaluate major schemes of the Ministry of Youth Affairs and Sports, RGNIYD has initiated a study to evaluate systematically the Rural Information Technology Youth Development Centre (RITYDC) scheme which was introduced by the Ministry of Youth Affairs and Sports during 2003-04.

Objectives

This evaluation study examine the functional effectiveness of the RITYDCs; to assess whether it is serving as a centre of national and international information; to assess whether these centres have created employment avenues for the youth and ultimately to analyse the problems and hurdles in the effective functioning of RITYDCs thereby to suggest remedial measures.

Methodology

76 RITYDCs out of total of 213 RITYDCs were selected on a random basis and a total of 45 respondents in every RITYDC were interviewed covering 22 States and UTs.

Main Findings

- The RITYDCs function as sports and cultural centres more than information centres

- In almost all centers, there is too much focus on sports, cultural programmes, health, family welfare, environment, education, employment activities which are the objective of the scheme..
- Most of the RITYDCs are functioning in rented premises. Some of the RITYDCS through their initiatives have mobilized resources from government departments and the community to have their own building.
- About 86 % of RITYDCs are actively engaged in providing facilities for vocational training and guidance and entrepreneurship development for employment and self employment to its members
- Only 1/5th of RITYDCs have reported functioning as employment exchange which is one of the main objectives of the scheme. The functioning employment exchanges have established linkages with employers. 71% of the centres are providing career counseling to the job aspirants of the community.
- About 60 % of RITYDCs actively participated in immunization programme, HIV/AIDS, health camp, eye camp, Hepatitis-B, blood donation by which the community has benefitted greatly. Similarly there is active participation in environment related activities.
- 92% of the RITYDCs have undertaken education related activities through imparting basic computer skills (33%) to rural youth
- 75% of RITYDCs have undertaken to train the local youth in disaster management
- 75% of the RITYDCs have library facilities. • V e r y few RITYDCs have taken up activities other than prescribed by the scheme like welfare programmes for the aged, widows, disabled, adventure camps, women empowerment etc.
- All the RITYDCs reported no problems in receiving the one-time grant of Rs.120000 in two installments and have utilized it for the designated purpose.
- Not a single RITYDC has received the recurring grant of Rs.5000 per annum and over 78% of the RITYDCs are not even aware of existence of such grants

2) Knowledge, Attitude and Practices of the Youth towards STI/HIV/AIDS in Tamil Nadu

Objectives

- To study knowledge among youth on STI / HIV prevention & allied services
- To study the prevalence of symptomatic STI among Youth
- To assess the treatment seeking behavior among youth, in relation to STI/HIV/AIDS
- To study the risk perception among youth, in relation to STI/HIV/AIDS
- To study the effectiveness of existing communication strategy
- To suggest appropriate communication strategy

Methodology

Sampling : "Multistage Sample"

Study Design: "Descriptive Study"

SAMPLING FRAME: 15,000 youth in the state of Tamilnadu which was geographically divided into five directions i.e. North, Central, West, East, and South which made the survey more generalisable and representative. Observations

- 94.3 % heard about HIV
- 19.9 % of the respondents state HIV is curable
- 19.9 % of the respondents were not aware of safe sex
- Consequences of Unsafe sex is not known to 77.2%
- Risk perception on unprotected sex was not appreciated by 27.1%
- Many ( 63.3 %) of the respondents feel that people have unsafe sex due to pleasure
- Respondents have more awareness on HIV (94.3) than STI (57.6%)
- 9.7 % of respondents had symptoms of STI
- 25% of the respondents were not able to express what is condom
- Majority of the respondents have acquired information through TV (78.2 %) and Radio (49.4%)
- Existing communication materials were able to highlight avoiding premarital sex as preventive strategy only to 43.4%
- Information on ART has reached only to 32.1 % of the respondents

- The word ICTC was not known to 70.4 % of respondents
- 7.2 % of the respondents have visited ICTC (no idea about testing)
- 29.1% of the respondents have attended awareness

Recommendations

- More communication materials should be prepared on STI highlighting the complications of STI, availability of STI services and risk of unprotected sex.
- Focused and structured STI programs have to be organized among Youth.
- Information on HIV Treatment and other care & support services should reach the people which may encourage early testing.
- Removing of misconceptions should be given importance in all awareness / training programs.
- Programs should focus more on the unorganized and industrial youth
- Treatment seeking behaviour should be increased for both STI and HIV
- TV / Radio being a popular media in reaching the community, they should be used for dissemination of information with adequate / interval period / reinforcement strategy.
- All programs should have compulsory session on condom demonstration instead of providing information only on condom.

3) Study On Impact Of HIV And AIDS Information, Education And Communication Campaigns On Young People In North East India

Objectives

- To assess the access of young people of NE India to the various IEC campaigns on HIV / AIDS
- To assess the knowledge and attitude of these young people on HIV / AIDS issues
- To understand these young peoples' perspective about IEC campaigns on HIV / AIDS

Methodology

- 1 high prevalent state ( Manipur ) was selected (Prevalence = 1.67 % in adults, Total = 0.25 lakhs)
- 1 highly vulnerable state ( Assam ) was selected (Prevalence = 0.03 % in adults. Total = 0.09 lakhs)

- Total of 1800 people of the age 20-35 were interviewed using a pre tested interview schedule

Findings

- 66% feel that the different awareness activities on HIV/AIDS have not been able to impact on the problem of HIV/AIDS
- 25% feel that the young generation is sufficiently aware of HIV / AIDS
- 74% feel that HIV and AIDS education should be imparted to senior students of High School
- Young people have information gaps regarding basic facts of HIV and AIDS
- A large majority of young people do not have information regarding various issues related to testing and care and support
- An overwhelming proportion of young people feel that the young generation is not sufficiently aware of HIV / AIDS
- Majority of young people feel that different IEC activities have not been sufficiently effective only a small proportion of young people have actually taken part in any activity on HIV / AIDS
- For a large number of young people, the source of information is the electronic media
- Of those who have seen / heard messages, most of them have been benefited
- A large proportion of young people opine the incorporation of HIV/ AIDS education to senior students of high school

Future Directions

- IEC campaigns should be strengthened – in terms of content and coverage
- The electronic media needs to be strategically tapped for targeting young people
- Young peoples' participation in HIV / AIDS related activities should be increased – qualitatively and quantitatively
- Interventions should be focussed to the general population in similar intensity as the identified High Risk Groups

4) School Mental Health Programme

Objectives

- To assess the prevalence of psychological distress in school children.

- To compare the prevalence of psychological distress experienced by students from a government aided school with students from a private school.
- To compare the level of psychological distress experienced by male students with female students.
- To compare the level of psychological distress experienced by 9th Std students with 11th Std students
- To provide intervention for the students through a multi pronged strategy
- To compare the data between the experimental group, that received the intervention, with the control group that did not, to assess the effectiveness of the intervention.

Instruments used

1. A proforma for collecting socio demographic details.
2. General Health Questionnaire (GHQ).
3. Children's behavior check list (CBCL).

Findings

- More than 90% of the students experienced significant levels of psychological distress as measured on the General Health Questionnaire.
- More female students were under greater psychological distress than male students.
- More students from the Govt. aided school were experiencing psychological distress than students from the private school.
- More 11th Std students experienced psychological distress than 9th Std students.
- There was no significant difference between the experimental group and the control group at baseline on the General Health Questionnaire and the Child Behavior Check List scores.
- The Child Behavior Check List revealed that no student was free from behavioral problems.
- Most of the students had moderate level of behavioral problems.
- Less than 1% of the students had received a rating of severe behavioral problems.
- Male students in the control group had more behavioral problems than their female counterparts.
- The severity of behavioral problems in students of the govt. aided school was greater than those from the private school.

- The behavioral problems of the 9th and 11th Std students were similar.
- The following were the most frequently present problems as elicited on the General Health Questionnaire (ranked in descending order of frequency)
  - Feeling constantly under strain
  - Feeling unhappy and depressed
  - Difficulty in concentrating
  - Feeling that difficulties couldn't be overcome
  - Feeling incapable of making decisions
  - Generally unhappy with present situation
  - Unable to face up to problems
  - Losing confidence in self
  - Unable to enjoy normal day-to-day activities
  - Poor or disturbed sleep
  - Feeling useless
  - Feeling worthless
- The number of students who were experiencing psychological distress in the intervention group fell from 57.90% to 39.60% (on the General Health Questionnaire) after intervention.
- There was a significant reduction in the Child Behavior Check List scores of the students after intervention
- The intervention program was effective and had succeeded in reducing the stress and behavioral problems in the students.
- Both male as well as female students had lower levels of psychological distress following intervention.
- Male students had lower levels of psychological distress than female students after receiving intervention, (but they had lower distress to begin with).
- Students from both the aided school as well as the private school had lower levels of psychological distress after undergoing intervention.
- More students from the aided school had improved compared to students from the private school.
- Psychological distress in 11th Std students had reduced significantly but the intervention did not alleviate the distress experienced by 9th Std students.

- Behavioral problems in female students reduced after intervention but had no effect on male students.
- Behavioral problems reduced in students from the govt. aided school after they had undergone intervention but no reduction in behavioral problems was seen in students from the private school.
- Behavioral problems reduced in both 11th as well as 9th Std students.
- Being of female gender, studying in the 9th Std and studying in the government school were all associated with greater psychological distress.
- Being male and studying in the govt. aided school was associated with having more behavioral problems.
- Being male and studying in the govt. aided school was associated with reduction in the experience of psychological distress following intervention.
- Being female and studying in the govt. aided school was associated with reduction in behavioral problems after intervention.

Recommendations

The following recommendations are based on our experience in working with adolescents in schools.

- The mental health program (preventive strategies and mental health services) should be coordinated with educational programs and other school-based health services. This should be done on a regular basis and not in an adhoc fashion.
- Preventive mental health programs should be developed and included in the curriculum for students.
- The curriculum of teachers' training courses should have a strong module for identifying psychological and behavioural problems among adolescents and school children. Periodically, teachers should be trained to recognize stressors that may lead to mental health problems as well as early signs of mental illness and refer these students to trained professionals within or outside the school setting.
- All schools should use the expertise of counselors who are qualified mental health professionals on a regular basis. This will help early detection and prompt redressal of problems. Roles of all the various mental health professionals who work on campus with students should be defined so that they are understood by students, families, all the school staff, and the mental health professionals themselves.

- A manual in Tamil has been developed by SCARF for teachers to help detect problems in schools. This can be modified if required and disseminated to all schools.
- Mental health referrals (within the school system as well as to community-based professionals and agencies) should be coordinated by using written protocols, should be monitored for adherence, and should be evaluated for effectiveness. Only then can we generate evidence based information.
- Group, individual, and family therapies should be included as schools arrange for direct services to be provided at school sites. Alternatively, referral systems should be available for each of these modes of therapy so that students and families receive the mode of therapy most appropriate to their needs.
- It should be documented that mental health professionals providing services on site in school (whether hired, contracted, or invited to school sites to provide services) have training specifically in child and adolescent mental health (appropriate for students' ages) and are competent to provide mental health services in the school setting.
- Private, confidential, and comfortable physical space should be provided at the school site.
- Quality-assurance strategies should be developed for mental health services provided at school, and all aspects of the school mental health program should be evaluated, including satisfaction of the parent, student, third-party payers, and mental health professionals.
- Confidentiality of health information should be maintained.

5) A Study on Performance of Young Women Panchayat Representatives

Objectives of the Study

Main Objectives

- Assess performance of elected young women representatives of Panchayati Raj Institutions specially the dalit women.

- Document case illustrations reflecting women empowerment through representation in Panchayati Raj Institutions.
- Suggest a roadmap for creating an enabling environment to empower women in playing key role in decision-making and development.

Subsidiary Objectives

- To know the socio-economic status of Young women PRI representatives in Orissa, Chattishgarh and West Bengal in different cross-sectional settings.
- Ascertain effectiveness of 73rd Amendment Act on women empowerment particularly among young women leaders at village levels.
- Identify problems than hinder empowerment and means to boost participation of young women elected representatives of PRI in decision making process, and
- To find out the outcome in terms of development with regard to whether women Panchayat leaders are successful and satisfied with their role and performance.

Methodology

The study was conducted in three states i.e., Orissa, Chattishgarh and West Bengal. From each state two districts were selected, using purposive sampling method. The districts selected were Khurda and Nawrangpur district from Orissa, Dhamtari and Raigarh district from Chattishgarh, and West Midnapure and East Midnapure districts from West Bengal.

From each state, one developed district and one backward district was selected, considering indicators such as Girl's education, IMR, MMR, Female feticide, SC/ST and women population etc. Ten young women Sarpanches and forty ward members in the 21-35 age groups were interviewed from each district. Besides, five case studies were documented electronically from each district.

Findings

- The most important factor of integration of young women from poor and low social classes has been the low self esteem of these members. This has been primarily due to the illiteracy and public behaviour of these members which has been ridiculed by other members and office bearers.

- Another obstacle is the ignorance and lack of awareness of women to show their talents in politics for which they are designed as 'weaker section' and 'disadvantaged groups'. Lack of their civic consciousness decrease their involvement in Panchayat Raj processes. For instance, they have the idea that, they have to contest only the reserved seats (women), but they have no idea that they are eligible to contest any seat only with caste barriers.
- The problems of illiteracy, lack of political education and knowledge about the government working systems have been major hindrance in motivating them to participate actively in the decision making processes.

- The most serious threat and challenge to young women empowerment lies with the actual and true involvement and participation by women representatives in decision-making process. It is found that most of the married women are homemakers under the protection and support of their husband

Recommendations

- Progressive legislations should be backed up by specific programmes to build the capacity of the women members to be active in the political process
- Mass awareness about gender equity and positive discrimination for women need to be planned and executed at the field level to promote more and more number of women in public domain.
- Skill upgradation through various training would be of great support to facilitate their assertion in the decision making processes.

- The approach of engaging women agencies in the development process will create a conducive environment for women to come to public domain in large numbers.
- Political education must be imparted to rural women through governmental agencies and voluntary organisations. They must be properly sensitized about their role and responsibility in the decision making process
- It is essential to build an environment where women must try to liberate themselves from the subjugation at all fronts. This needs to be facilitated by universal education of girl children and proper implementation of women protection laws in the reality.
- Rural electoral politics must be made free the clutches of rural hooligans, mafia and elites, who by virtue of their money and muscle power criminalize the rural electoral politics.
- Special courts must be established for speedy trial and disposal of cases pertaining to election related crime against women.
- Voluntary organisations may act as facilitators to undertake widespread initiative to coordinate the developmental and political activities of rural young women.

Second Core Committee on Youth Development Index

RGNIYD has taken up a new and innovative project to construct a National Youth Development Index and Report which could serve as an effective tool for Governments – Central as well as states, civil society and the independent sector, youth and community development organizations, Student youth and non-student youth networks, Universities and tertiary education sectors, youth wings of political, religious, cultural and secular organisations and all those interested in youth development issues.

It would also facilitate planning and policy making for youth in the country. It provides the status on the progress as well setbacks in youth development policies, planning and implementation strategies and suggests alternatives and options. As an “observatory of social change” the YDI indicator database would help youth programmers use the quantitative and qualitative information to improvise the process and content of the programmes. It could also be used as an effective decision – support tool for national and regional policy making bodies for judicious resource allocation and priority identification.

The Second Core Committee on the Youth Development Index was held on 30 May 2007 at RGNIYD to scrutinise the proposal submitted by the Tata Institute of Social Sciences, Mumbai. The second core-committee consisted Shri G.Rajasekaran, I.A.S., Director, RGNIYD as the Chairman, Dr. Bhagbanprakash, Lead Advisor of the Project, Shri Raj K Mishra, Regional Director, CYP – Asia Centre, Chandigarh, Prof. Irudharajan, Centre for Development Studies (CDS), Trivandrum, the Faculty Head (READ), RGNIYD and the Project Team comprising Dr.Parasuraman, Director, Tata Institute of Social Sciences, Mumbai, Dr.Lata Narayan and Dr.Anil Kumar of TISS, Mumbai.

The proposal was thoroughly discussed and several suggestions were made regarding the proposal and implementation of the project. The TISS Team were requested to send the revised proposal incorporating all the suggestions

It was decided to identify the Core Areas, delineating the variables and arrive at summary indicators. Each theme will have 3 to 4 variables. Multi disciplinary teams on thematic areas will be set up at the start of the project and continue till the end. At the end of the I stage, the Thematic Reports will be prepared and printed for dissemination

The Project Team agreed to complete the entire project in three stages i.e.

Stage	Description of the Project
I	Development of framework for the YDI, and framework for each of the thematic areas: Five thematic areas
II	National Consultative Workshop (Number of participants 25) for 2 days Regional Workshops in collaboration with Regional partners
III	National Study covering all thematic areas and National Workshop

4. Documentation and Dissemination

Documentation and Dissemination is one of the major aspects of the Institutes activity. The following documentation and dissemination activities were taken up during the year.

6. Network of Voluntary Action in Youth Development (NOVAYD)

Youth in India Report

RGNIYD has undertaken a Project on Preparation of “Youth in India” Report on the lines of a similar report prepared in collaboration with ICSSR in 1986 – 88. The “Youth in India” Report covers youth related issues such as: Structure, Growth and Distribution of youth population, Youth Situation in India, Employment, Education, Unemployment, Brain Drain etc., Youth Rights and Responsibilities, Youth Service Schemes of Governments, Youth Service Organisations, Health, Recreation and Family Life of the Youth, Weaker Sections of the Youth, Young Women, Crime by Youth, Youth Power, Youth Policy, Research on Youth and Problems of Youth etc. Each issue affecting the youth is being thoroughly researched and the report is being prepared based on the research findings. The report interprets statistical data, based on the study of public and private reports besides published books. However, the work is based on existing primary and secondary data and information that lie scattered and it is an earnest attempt to assimilate at one place all the youth pertinent data for use by the Policy Makers, Researchers and Youth Development Administrators and Workers. Dr. S. Saraswathi, Director ICSSR (Retd.) has been appointed as a consultant for this project who was the author of the first such report brought out in January 1988. The draft Youth in India Report has been prepared and was reviewed by Youth Development Experts under the Chairmanship of the Director, RGNIYD at the Institute on 28 and 29 May 2007. The Committee suggested few modifications which were incorporated in the report.

Short Films on Youth Issues

Youth often lack vital information - information on basic rights, public services, health, education, work opportunities etc. To fulfill this need, RGNIYD proposes to use audio-visual medium for the youth which is a proven effective tool of social change communication. Therefore, a Two-day Consultation on Audio-Visual Material Preparation on Youth Issues was organised at State T.V. & Film Institute and L.V.Prasad T.V. & Film Institute on 9 and 10 April 2007 inviting the Student Directors and Faculty Members to prepare scripts on youth issues. 25 Students either in the final year or who have completed Diploma participated in the consultation. Shri M.Ramesh, Principal MGR Film & T.V. Institute, Taramani along with Shri Ravi Raj, Head of the Direction Department and Shri K.Hariharan, Director, L.V.Prasad T.V. & Film Academy along with Shri Sunny Joseph and Ms.Uma Vangal actively participated in the deliberations. Subsequent to this consultation, a One-day Workshop to discuss the scripts on important youth issues submitted by the Students and Faculty of MGR TV & Film Institute and L.V. Prasad T.V. & Film Institute was held at RGNIYD on 29 June 2007 in which 11 Students and Faculty Members. Short films on interesting youth issues such as Right to Information, Water Harvesting etc., were screened to provide guidelines and benchmarks for the young directors.

The following short films were produced during the year:

1. Promise – on environment awareness
2. Kanmani – on female foeticide
3. 'Kanavu Nijamagum' (Dream will come to pass) an educative resource targeted to orient the students on various career options and career decision making skills
4. 'Sabalam' (Challenge) a short film on life skills highlighting the need for assertiveness among the adolescents to flee from the snares and pressures of peers.

Websites Developed by RGNIYD

In keeping with the National Youth Policies, guidance that RGNIYD will serve as the apex Information and Research Centre on Youth Development, the Institute took up the task of developing websites useful to the adolescents and thee youths. The following new websites were launched during the year:

Launching of New Websites

1. www.youthportal.gov.in

RGNIYD launched a portal www.youthportal.gov.in which is exclusively for the youth, youth practitioners, scholars doing research on youth issues and adults interested in youth development. The website provides information on distance education, online education, non-formal education, vocational training, study abroad, scholarships and education loans. The section on career provides a wide range of details on options and qualifications, employment/occupation including prospects in voluntary sector. One of the unique features is that it provides information on self-employment and formalities involved in setting up a business. This portal also provides holistic information on youth health and development, environment and ecology. It also covers youth interests like entertainment, sports and media besides showcasing inspiring success stories of individuals and institutions. The most prolific feature of this portal is that it is a one-stop shop for researchers and students assembling all youth pertinent statistics on demography, literacy, employment, child labour. The database segment is a treasure-trove of information related to youth and the government and non-government departments and institutions related to youth. The links on youth websites provide link to important youth links and websites worldwide.

2. www.rgnyid-ahdp.gov.in

The National Adolescent Resource Centre of RGNIYD (supported by UNFPA) has developed a website www.rgnyid-ahdp.gov.in. The site provides adolescent specific information on topics such as Abuse and Trafficking, Adolescent Health Services, Adolescent Reproductive Sexual Health, Career and Education, Early marriage, Gender Issues, HIV/AIDS, Life Skills, Mental Health, Nutrition, Peer Pressure, Reproductive Tract Infection, Rights and Responsibilities, Sexually Transmitted Infections, Substance Abuse etc. The site is also interactive in nature with an in-built facility to post queries to the experts of the National Adolescent Resource Team along with features like FAQs, myths and misconceptions on Adolescent Reproductive Sexual Health, Teen club activities, E-Counselling and related website links. The E-Newsletters, videos, photos of this Centre could also be accessed from this site.

3. www.rgnyd-career.gov.in

The adolescent health and Development Project of RGNIYD which is supported by MoYAS and UNFPA launched an exclusive website on careers. This has been developed to provide guidance to adolescents and was officially launched on 14 December 2007.

The website provides comprehensive information on various careers to suit the needs of contemporary adolescents and youth and would serve as an important source for teachers to obtain career information while rendering career guidance services.

Release of RGNIYD's Logo

A new logo for RGNIYD has been designed and approved by the XX Executive Council. The logo was released by Her Excellency, The President of India Smt. Pratibha Devisingh Patel during the Inaugural Foundation Day of RGNIYD on 1 September 2007.

Auditor's Report

We have audited the attached Balance Sheet of the RAJIV GANDHI NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF YOUTH DEVELOPMENT, Bheemanthangal, Sriperumbudur 602 105, as at 31st March 2008, and also the Income and Expenditure Account for the year ended on that date annexed thereto. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Institute's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We have conducted the audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in India. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

- 1) We report that,
  - a) We have obtained all the information and explanations which, to the best of our knowledge and belief, were necessary for the purpose of our audit;
  - b) In our opinion, proper books of accounts, as required by law, have been kept by the Institute so far as appears from our examination of these books;
  - c) The Balance Sheet referred to in this report is in agreement with the books of account.
- 2) In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the said accounts read with the notes and the management report, give the information in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the accounting principles generally accepted in India.
  - a) In the case of the Balance Sheet, of the state of the affairs of the Institute as at 31st March 2008.
  - (b) In the case of the Income and Expenditure account, the excess of expenditure over income for the year ended on that date.
