The National Youth Policy, 2014 (NYP-2014) also emphasizes on youth development and productive youth participation. According to a UN High Level Panel report on the Post 2015 development agenda and the Sustainable Development Goals, Youth should be placed at the centre of any new development framework by focussing on youth development. This will enable them to design, implement and monitor youth empowerment strategies. For assessing the needs of the young people and to work for youth and community development, professional intervention calls for attention.

3. Women as entrepreneurs have been facing a plethora of challenges towards enhancing their entrepreneurship including financial insufficiency or lack of financing, lack of advisory systems and mentors, a risk adverse culture among women, etc.
4. There is the urgent need to address the issue of skill gap and widespread unemployment in the districts and of how effective and timely intervention can drastically bring down insurgency problems, solve political instability and bring about more gender equity.
